DEI

Digital Engagement Initiative (DEI) Program: Motlow State has partnered with Follett Bookstore to provide the Digital Engagement Initiative (DEI) program. The DEI fee is non-refundable, non-mandatory fee. Students enrolled in specific courses are charged an e-book fee for the online book and online homework. You are automatically charged the price to your student account when registered for the DEI class. Students can opt-out of the e-book if desired and will receive an email from Follett Bookstore with steps on how to access the DEI book as well as a link to opt-out. Please see opt-out deadlines. You have access to all the required DEI material on the first day of class. TN Promise or TN Reconnect does not cover DEI fees.

COST OF ATTENDANCE (COA)

Cost of attendance (COA) estimates the total expenses for a student attending Motlow State, used in the formula for calculating Financial Aid Need.

The total figure includes estimates for tuition and transportation fees; books, course materials, supplies, and equipment; living expenses (room and board), personal/miscellaneous expenses; and transportation. The Financial Aid Office uses the cost of attendance when calculating aid eligibility. It is only a representation of a student's actual charges. Students and parents can use the cost of attendance to build a budget for the academic year. Please note all amounts are based on estimates. A student's COA will change based upon their enrollment status and enrollment periods. All students are initially awarded based on a full-time, fall and spring COA. Their awards could change once their COA is updated to reflect their actual enrollment. These costs are subject to change each academic year. Note: financial aid awards may be adjusted and/or cancelled due to a change in COA to prevent and/or eliminate an over-award.
