BIOGRAPHY

Identified as a strategist, connector, visionary, influencer, and implementer, Dr. Michael Torrence is the seventh seated President of Motlow State Community College, a front-runner in higher education across Tennessee and the nation. Since arriving in May 2018, Dr. Torrence has transformed Motlow State into an award-winning, cutting-edge, innovative college year after year. As a well-respected Higher Education leader across multiple spaces, Dr. Torrence has led and supported grants and giving totaling $20 million. He has masterfully blended the rural with the urban all the while touching students and transforming communities one at a time. His leadership and vision have placed the College on platforms and before audiences that were unknown to Motlow before his arrival. Dr. Torrence is a technology tactician and strategist, having worked in higher education for approximately 30 years.

Additionally, he has garnered the trust of local communities, in addition to broad relationships with state and federal government representatives and agencies across industry as a person who envisions and executes. Executives and his peers are continually enlivened by his ability to build mutually beneficial partnerships that promote growth of students and businesses. The collaborations he leads aligns with multinational education and corporate organizations such as the World Bank, United Nations, and other ministries of education. He deliberately creates space so everyone may have a voice and a seat at the table. His areas of expertise include Community and Economic Development, Research, Adult Education, Student Success, Academic Affairs, Professional Development, and Distance Learning. Additional interests are Applied Learning with Open Education Resources (OER), Virtual Reality, Augmented Reality, Mixed Reality, Automation, Robotics, Mechatronics, Gamification and AI as platforms for education, learning, and training business and industry to increase efficiency and scalability. Dr. Torrence is also an entrepreneurial business development professional.

Dr. Torrence serves on local, state, national, and international boards that influence and shape the future of higher education. He is the recipient of many awards crossing several categories. Recently, he was named a Distinguished Alumni by South Dakota State University, where he earned both the undergraduate and graduate degrees. He served on the American Association of Community Colleges Board and was appointed to the Community Colleges of Appalachian Board of Directors. He is a coveted Maxine Smith Fellow and is only one of two Fellows who serve as a Community College President in the Tennessee Board of Regents--the College System of Tennessee, the system that governs community and technical colleges. He is a premier speaker and lecturer. Dr. Torrence is an Air Force veteran. He earned a Ph.D. in Exceptional Learning (Literacy) from Tennessee Technological University.
